

Community-Based Learning Program

What is Community-Based Learning? Community-Based Learning is a hands-on teaching and learning methodology that provides students with active learning opportunities related to course content while meeting needed services in the community.

Project Examples

Arts and Culture festival. (Direct Service)

Marketing students conducted a SWOT analysis for local Non-Profits, offering feedback and strategies to effectively promote their services. (Project-based Service)

Capstone Course: Nursing students worked in teams providing health and wellness information to the community. Past Services included: Workshops on Hygiene with Preschoolers, Physical activities at local Senior Centers, Breast-feeding info sessions at local high schools, Community Gardening at a local youth organization (Direct Service)

Your interest in engaging community-based learning students is unique to your organization and is able to be

Questions? Contact Erin Smith or Pam Brown, Experiential Education Center, 774-357-2407 or via email at Erin.smith@bristolcc.edu or pamela.brown@bristolcc.edu